Have you received campus ministry grant money from Presbytery of Scioto Valley in the Past? If so, on how many occasions and in what total amount?

Part II: Application Questions:

1.) One of our campus ministry colleagues has said, "Campus Ministry matters because we are where you want to be. We go to the people and places the Church is not willing to venture." How is your campus ministry venturing into places in which congregations may not be present? Share at least one story from the last twelve months about how the gospel has been made real in an unlikely place through your ministry. Or, if you are developing a new ministry, how do you anticipate your campus ministry venturing into such places?

2.) We recognize that the nature of how the millennial generation is expressing their spirituality is changing drastically compared to how previous generations have lived their faith. How has your ministry been open to the possibility of changing what you believe and/or what you do in order to be faithful ministers among this generation? Or, if you are developing a new ministry, how do you plan to engage in faithful ministry amid the present millennial generation?

3.) Give concrete examples of how spiritual formation has happened with at least three students in your campus ministry in the last year. Or, if you are developing a new ministry, how do you plan to develop and nurture relationships and spiritual formation?

4.) Give one example of how students have begun to take ownership of the ministry, leading their peers in spiritual formation. Or, if you are developing a new ministry, how will you intentionally foster student ownership and peer ministry?

5.) How are you creating (or will you seek to create) an identity and “name” on your campus so that students know who you are and what you do?

6.) How are you building (or seeking to build) a broad base of financial support? What are your sources of funding outside of the Presbytery of Scioto Valley? What kind of engagement, if any, do you have with your alumni regarding financial giving?

7.) The following highlights various types of ministries in which you may be (or seek to be) engaged. Please share how many students are involved, and in what fashion, in each identified ministry: Or, please share your plan of action around the development of these ministries.

a.) Worship Services

b.) Small group ministries

c.) Service projects, including work trips and service to the campus and community.

d.) Relational outreach ministries

e.) Advocacy and other activities for social transformation

f.) Committees

g.) Educational ministries

8.) Tell us about your staff positions. Do you have a ministry board of directors? If so, describe the representation on the Board (students, faculty/staff, community members, church members, clergy, etc.). What kind of functions does the Board perform? How may Presbytery of Scioto Valley best support you in your leadership structure?

Send completed application with your current operating budget or proposed budget to: The Presbytery of Scioto Valley, Attn: Commission for Nurture and Outreach, 4131 N. High Street, Suite B, Columbus, OH 43214
